INTRODUCTION

The Dean Evans Tennessee Picture Collection, ca. 1940's – ca. 1990's, consists of approximately 2,200 post cards, magazine pictures, and snapshots of various subjects and locations related to Tennessee. The images are contained in five 4 ¼ x 6 ¼ inch archival boxes. The collection was donated to the Tennessee State Library & Archives (TSLA) in 2005 by Mrs. Sarah Dunaway as the agent for the brother of Mr. Evans.

The images are arranged alphabetically according to the town or location as opposed to subject. Some subjects may be found in several locations. For example, if you are looking for locations or images pertaining to Davy Crockett you will find the images under Limestone and Lawrenceburg rather than Davy Crockett. Many of the magazine pictures feature exclusive Tennessee homes and interior furnishings. Civil War monuments and sites are one of the subjects of particular interest of Mr. Evans.

The physical condition of the collection is good with the exception that the snapshots and magazine pictures have been taped to 4 x 6 inch index cards. A short description is included on the back. Some of the post cards have been trimmed to fit the 4 x 6 inch format and tape has been applied to the edges. All the images have been inserted into Mylar® sleeves for protection.

Additional post card images can be found in the TSLA Post Card Collection. This collection has not been microfilmed. There are no restrictions on the use of this collection.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Dean Evans Tennessee Picture Collection, ca. 1940's – ca. 1990's, is a group of post cards, snapshots, and pictures clipped from various magazines on subjects relating to Tennessee. The items in this collection are not specifically dated. The date range is estimated based on features found within the images. This collection was donated after the death of Mr. Evans by his brother through his agent Mrs. Sarah Owen Dunaway. Mr. Evans had been employed as an archivist at the Georgia Archives.

Mr. Evans hobby was to collect images of various subjects. An article appeared in the Atlanta Journal and Constitution Magazine on June 23, 1974, telling of his particular interest in compiling images of Confederate monuments that he had visited. Another favorite topic that makes up a large segment of this collection is homes of the wealthy. There are many exterior and interior images of these homes that were clipped from magazine sources and taped to index cards. These images can give a view into the style of well appointed homes of the time. A brief description is included on the back of these index cards. There are no other background documents included in this collection such as correspondence, journals, or diaries.

The main weakness of this collection is the problem of conservation. Nearly every image has had tape applied to surfaces and many of the images have been taped to acidic, colored index cards which will become a problem over time.
